Dates in History

- 1775 On April 18th, Paul Revere, a renowned silversmith, better remembered as a folk hero of the American Revolution, during the night made a dramatic ride on horseback to warn Boston-area residents of an imminent attack by British troops.
- 1800 On April 24th, the Library of Congress was officially founded as U.S. President John Adams approved the $5,000 appropriated to acquire "such books as may be necessary for the use of congress." It eventually became the largest library in the world.
- 1860 On April 3rd, the first pony express mail, traveling by horse and rider relay teams, simultaneously left St. Joseph, Missouri, and Sacramento, California. Ten days later, on April 13th, the westbound rider and mail packet completed the approximately 1,800-mile journey and arrived in Sacramento, beating the eastbound packet's arrival in St. Joseph by two days and setting a new standard for speed mail delivery.
- 1912 On April 16th, American aviator Harriet Quimby became the first woman to fly across the English Channel, guiding her French Blériot monoplane through heavy overcast from Dover, England to Hardelot, France.
- 1970 On April 22nd, millions of Americans celebrated the very first Earth Day in the United States. The first Earth Day increased environmental awareness in America, and in July of 1970, the Environmental Protection Agency was established by executive order to regulate and enforce national pollution legislation.

It's a running joke

My internet connection on my farm was terrible until I moved the router in the horse barn.
Now I have stable Wi-Fi

My boyfriend bought me a diamond ring; the stone was cut in the shape of a four leaf clover. I wore it all the time to show him how much it meant to me. One day, I got curious and had it valued at a jeweler's. Unfortunately, they told me that my boyfriend had been swindled, as the diamond was actually a cubic zirconia.
It was a sham rock

To say I enjoy making meteorology puns...
Would be a thunderstatement

Not all construction work is equally enjoyable. For instance, drilling a large hole is boring, but fastening two pieces of metal together is riveting.

I used to work for a submarine manufacturing company.
Unfortunately, it went under
